Tim Martin has over 30 years of experience in the international O&G industry where he has been general counsel, special counsel, country manager, finance director, commercial manager, corporate director and economist. He has worked in more than 50 countries around the world and has negotiated and drafted the full range of international petroleum agreements. Tim has established and managed international operations, handled the acquisition and divestment of oil and gas properties, secured project financing and managed corporate banking and financial systems.

Tim has been president of the Association of International Petroleum Negotiators, where he was named Member of the Year twice and the recipient of its President's and Legacy Awards. He has been president of the Canadian Association of Petroleum Landmen and director of the American Association of Petroleum Landmen.

Tim has extensive experience as arbitrator, mediator, expert and counsel. He is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators and a member of the LCIA. Tim is a director of the AAA, an ICDR panel member and a member of the ICC Canadian national committee. He is a member of several Canadian law societies, the IBA, the CBA and the ABA (where he was vice chair of the international energy section).

Tim has advised governments and industry organisations. He teaches at several law schools around the world and has spoken extensively on energy transactions, dispute resolution, model contracts, decommissioning, corruption, corporate governance and international law in North & South America, Europe, Africa, Asia and the ME. He has published extensively on the energy sector.
